Barony Of Terra Pomaria

September/October 2006

Announcements

Words from the Baroness:

Greetings to all! What a busy and fabulous summer! So many accomplishments to be proud of. Long & Short was a great event. Two Champions were chosen. Congratulations to HL Nemo Magnus, Squire to Sir Morgan the True Hearted, our new Archery Defender.

Congratulations to HL Roland Von Bern, Squire to Sir William Percival, our new Heavy Defender. They both fought with honor, chivalry and skill. We are proud to have them as Champions of Terra Pomaria.

Wait, a new rumbling in the Barony. What's that, a new Knight? Word just out! Roland, we are so excited and proud of you! Please join us in congratulating the newest Knight in Terra Pomaria, Sir Roland Von Bern. An excellent choice, he deserves it. He works hard for the Kingdom of An Tir in many ways. He is an excellent teacher of new fighters, armorer and friend to many. How fun to see someone we all know be recognized at the Kingdom level. Huzzah!

Congratulations to our new Seneschal and many thanks to Robert for all his hard work. He did a fine job and I hope he knows he is appreciated. He will be available for quittance and help to Lynarra, in the weeks to come. We won't let him get away too easily. Please let him know how much we all care about him and appreciate his tireless and loyal work he does for the Barony.

Thank you to all that come to the combined Fighter, Archery and Rapier practice on Wednesday nights. The attendance numbers are phenomenal. Over 40 again this week! We are looking for an alternative site for inclement weather times. Robert found a potential arena site that might work. Stay tuned as we will post any change.

Please watch for confidence polling information as it unfolds. It will be coming soon to the Barony. The Baron & I would be honored to remain your Baron & Baroness, if that is your wish. We hope you enjoy us as much as we enjoy everyone who plays and volunteers in Terra Pomaria.

Last but not least, CRIMSON SKY IS BACK! Come join us the first weekend in October at Willamette Mission for a great event. The autocrat team is planning lots of fun things for us. Watch for the details as they unfold, get your schedule set to join us and we will see you there! Thank you all who have made this the GREATEST TOURNEY SEASON EVER! Thank you for all your help and your volunteer hours. Without you, things would not happen.

Yours in service of the dream, Baron Gawin and Baroness Marianna

Words from the Seneschal:

Greetings to their Excellencies and the Populace of Terra Pomaria, I have contacted their majesties regarding the baronial confidence polling procedures and am waiting to hear back from them on a confirmation of the date. As of today the polling will take place at the November business meeting. If this changes I will post to the list. The polling will run according to Kingdom Law. The following is an excerpt that defines who will receive official ballots:

h. Polling forms will be distributed only to members within the baronies zip code range. Officers, Sergeants, Courtiers, Gallants, Yeomen and Lancers who live outside the zip code range of the branch, and are members, will be included in the polling.

With regard to notification, Corpora III.D.2. states, “The Society permits very broad participation by people who are not members as defined in the By-Laws. However no part of the Society can be required to solicit or heed their views regarding branch status, or any other situation where the opinion of the populace is to be consulted. Law, custom, or actual practice may allow consultation with nonmembers, but it cannot be required.” This paragraph refers specifically to advancement of branches but then speaks more globally on the matter of soliciting opinion of the populace. The interpretation of the above quote from Corpora is that you must make the information regarding the polling available to all paid society members residing in your area. Regardless of what local customs may be, even if you have ‘naturalized’ citizens, only members within your zip codes are eligible to participate in the polling. The only exceptions are those listed above and the Baronial Candidates, if applicable. Any questions should be directed to the Crown.

All those not included in this are encouraged to write crown directly. Your opinion matters!

I look forward to seeing all of the populace giving their input in this matter.

I attended the seneschals meeting at September crown. It is time to update Kingdom law so please take the time to look over it and give input. It was brought up that people have not been following the kingdom grievance procedure. Seneschals have been encouraged to go over it at their meetings so here it is:

VIII.B. Grievance Procedure:

1. Anyone having a personal dispute with any other person within the Kingdom shall settle the matter using the following procedure:
2. Speak to the person in private and face-to-face. Most disputes can be resolved on this level. If the dispute is still unresolved, write a letter to the person. State what the problem is, what you feel will fix the problem, and request that they respond to you within 10 to 14 days. Keep a copy of the letter. Respond to each other until you reach a resolution.
3. If the dispute remains unresolved, seek a neutral third party to act as mediator. The mediator will attempt to find a lawful compromise to the dispute, which is agreeable to both parties.
4. If the dispute continues, write directly to the officer responsible for overseeing the area in question asking them to help resolve the dispute. Ask for specific help and include copies of all correspondence about the problem. Work with that officer until a resolution is found.
5. Repeat step 3 moving up the organization and including everyone previously involved on your copy list. Follow your correspondent’s advice as to whether or not anyone else at or below their level needs to be consulted. Eventually, you may run out of levels.

6. If the dispute continues, and you have gone through of all the steps set forth above, you may appeal to the Crown. The Crown will find a resolution and Their decision may be appealed only to the SCA Board of Directors.

7. The Grievance Procedure is intended to address personal disputes between individuals and not disputes on official matters. For further guidance, please refer to the SCA Organizational Handbook.

Remember, it is always best to talk to the person directly first.

Over the next few meetings I will be going over items of kingdom law as the seneschals office has requested that we continue to educate our populace. Current Kingdom Law can be found on the Antir website.

We seem to have some offices coming open. Please apply for these positions!! Become a deputy!! This is fun. We need your help to continue to play this game so volunteer. It is a great way to get involved and meet people!! If you are interested in a position please contact me or the current officer in question and we will tell you all about it and get you an official job description.

I would like to say a big thank you and congrats to Arkil and Dara for running Long And Short. Great Job Guys!!

Kay lee's will be starting again on October 9th at 7pm, hope to see you all there. Officers!! Send your reports to your superiors!!! This includes me. I would like them emailed 1 full day prior to the business meeting even if you have nothing to report I want something that says nothing to report, same goes for your principality and kingdom superiors!!! I would also like hard copies brought to the meeting. I discovered in the Summits Moot that many of you are not submitting reports. THIS IS A VITAL PART OF YOUR JOB!!! And remember, quarterly reports are soon. See me if you need help.

Ok that's it for this month, don't want to overwhelm anyone my first time out of the gate. Thanks again for the opportunity to serve the barony

YIS

Lynnarra

Exert from "Legend of the Hunter" Part 4

Anonymous

The bandits had set up their camp in a large canyon with steep cliffs on three sides and an entry that was heavily wooded to shield them from being seen. It would have been highly defensible from a conventional attack. The hunter wasn't conventional. The first thing the sentries near the front of the canyon heard was a low rumble, like an approaching thunderstorm. Then the ground began to shake. Only one of the sentries realized what the sound was and managed to get into a tree before the herd of oxen burst from the trees and stampeded through them. The sentry in the tree watched the others being trampled below him when an arrow thudded into the tree an inch from his hand. Jerking back in surprise, he lost his grip and fell into the stampede. The oxen continued their mad rush into the canyon. They reached the bandit camp and continued forward, headless of the tents and men that were trampled beneath them. Only a handful of the bandits managed to make it into the trees and apparent safety. Reaching the end of the canyon and with nowhere else to go, the oxen circled back around and charged back in the direction they had come. Two of the bandits that had gotten into the same tree sighed in relief as the oxen disappeared. Then they froze at the sound of a voice.

"Wrong tree to hide in." the voice said from above. They looked up just in time to see a figure swing down towards them, it's legs hooked on an overhead branch. A hand axe caught each of them in the chest, pitching them from the tree on to the hard ground below. The sound of them landing, and the sight of the axes buried in them, quickly got the attention of the other six survivors. Quickly climbing down, they grabbed their weapons and gathered in a tight knot near what was once the center of the camp. Unseen behind one the few tents that was still partially standing, a dark figure opened the sack he had tied to his waist and dumped the contents onto the ground nearby. As soon as it was free from the sack, the snake began to coil up but a pair of hands quickly caught it by the neck and tail and launched it through the air. It landed in among the bandits. The bandits yelled and began to scatter. The snake struck out and got one of the men in the back of the leg. Another of the bandits managed to get out of the snakes range, but fell as an arrow caught him in the gut. The other four bandits managed to take cover behind a couple of trees, glancing fearfully around them. One of the bandits found himself alone, having fled a different direction from the others. He listened to the shouts of the other bandits trying to find their attacker, but could tell they were still disorganized. Every couple of seconds someone shouted a different direction that they had seen something. The bandit froze as a blade suddenly pressed against his neck. A voice whispered in his ear.

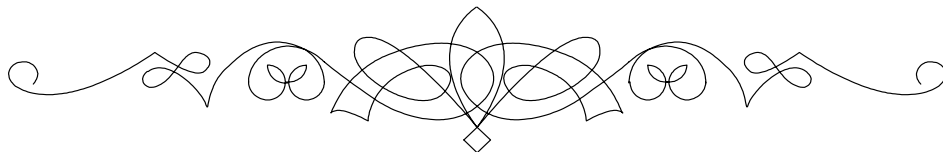

"They see things that are not there and the confusion they cause themselves will be their doom. Your doom will be decided by whether or not you tell me everything I wish to know.

"They will kill me if I tell you anything." The bandit whispered.

"If you tell me everything I wish to know then I can guarantee they will not kill you."

After a moments time the bandit told him everything. After the bandit finished, the blade slid away from his neck. "You promised they would not kill me." The bandit whispered. "You have o protect me."

"I never said I would protect you, I just said THEY would not kill you." The hunter was gone before the bandit's head hit the ground.
