The Barony of Terra Pomaria

Words from Their Excellencies

As we approach the Winter Solstice, transitioning through these darker days, we send you blessings and warm wishes as we dream of brighter times ahead.

Reflecting on my persona and my personal history and identity, I find myself captivated by traditions rooted in Germany. During the Middle Ages, people adorned their homes and churches with greenery and decorated trees in the streets. This custom of embellishing a tree during this season, known as the Tannenbaum or Weihnachtsbaum, originated in Germany.

Anna and her family would gather to decorate their homes with greenery and perhaps even decorate a tree with candles, evoking the stars glittering through the evergreens on crisp, clear nights. Records indicate that German Lutherans were among the first to adopt this practice in the 16th century. In fact, a Christmas tree was documented in 1539 within the Cathedral of Strasbourg under the Protestant Reformer Martin Bucer's leadership. (Martin Luther is often credited with introducing candles to Christmas trees, inspired by the stars twinkling through evergreen branches during a nighttime walk. This specific detail about Luther's association with lighted trees is more a popular legend than a verified historical event.)

The family might also visit a Christmas Market—a cherished tradition also believed to have begun in Germany during the Late Middle Ages. These festive open-air markets initially provided essential goods, food, and drink to sustain families through the winter. Over time, they evolved to include seasonal delights and toys, making them a vibrant part of the holiday season.

As we embrace the season's traditions and gather with loved ones, we are reminded of the enduring spirit of togetherness and hope that these customs inspire. Whether through the twinkling lights of a Christmas tree or the joyful bustle of a festive market, these timeless rituals connect us to the past while lighting the way toward brighter days to come. May this season bring warmth, reflection, and the promise of renewal to all.

Bank Balance: 14,995.32
Ledger Balance: 13,951.41

The difference matches the amount in uncashed checks.

This month I sent in the exchequer quarterly report, provided records for the SCA's internal audit, and worked on starting the process of updating signers. I did not meet my goal of emailing officers about budget, so I will make that a priority this week.

I have been working with US Bank to get connected with a banker who can arrange for us to do signatures long distance. Apparently not all of them can so my first appointment was unproductive. I've got one set up this week to establish that relationship and get the contacts needed for Society. I also learned that there have been some changes at Principality for the Exchequer. Sindri will be Summits Exchequer until next summer when their deputy will take over. They'll be decided together which one they want on the bank account and getting their info to me to put on the bank request form.

Unfortunately, three of our intended signers have their SCA memberships expire in the next 3 months, and I've been told that will be a roadblock. Once we have all renewed our memberships, and I have the info mentioned earlier, I can send the bank request form to Kingdom and get the ball rolling.

I have a couple of issues for the finance committee after business meeting.

Officer reports:

Welcome everyone

Good evening everyone!

A few things of note:

There have been some questions regarding the proper wording for a site copy. Here is the required verbiage: THE SCA PROHIBITS HARASSMENT

AND BULLYING OF ALL INDIVIDUALS AND GROUPS. If you have questions, please let me know.

Please still have copy reviewed before publishing

The EIF/DIF form has been replaced with “Event Proposal” form. This one form fills both EIF and DIF requirements.

Thank you Lin Dis for the Social Media work she has been doing. We have been seeing more new people and new interests.

In addition to needing officers we need new populace to keep this game healthy.

We are looking for someone to update our pamphlets, if interested please let me know.

We are also encouraging officers to work to find their replacements. All officers, over the next few months, consider if you have a contingency deputy, getting a deputy, and letting me know who they are.

The goal is to have someone ready to step in and we are not scrambling to find the replacement.

We have multiple offices open

The gate count went smoothly at the event. I love the envelope method. I will get the numbers to the event stewards this week.

November Business Meeting Notes

I sent additional documentation to Corporate for their 2023 internal audit. They asked for site contracts for our two events in 2023 where the site rental was over $3000.

I am currently midway through emailing officers regarding their budgets. Please look out for those emails and respond by December 10th.

The finance committee met after October's business meeting. A request to increase the budget for the Feast of Apple and Song by $100 to accommodate partial set up on Friday was approved. The comp list was approved with the addition of the following event staff beyond those required by the financial policy:

New Business:

Ben/Kenji has Baronial Stuff

Way back when I was the Chirurgeon for TP I had a few items for my office. As that office was disbanded, I still have items with no idea what to do with them. These include 2 banners (ordinaries I think they were called once), a small flag, and a very nice cot that is designed to be used as a stretcher and can be put in multiple configurations.

Does the Barony want these back, disposed of, sold off? My understanding is the SCA does not want to have an active First Aid station so using these is not a viable option. The Chirurgeons were talking about returning to a guild but I have not seen that be active as well and suspect it was also shut down as too connected to the SCA.

Per Consensus:

Plan will be for these items to be added to the silent auction at Bar Gemels.

Broken Chronicler Computer:

Consensus is that the laptop is not worth repairing. Kenji to wipe and recycle the laptop.

Closing Words:

I (Stephan) was having a delightful nap and apologize for arriving late, Thank you for the wonderful event this weekend. I am planning to go to 11th night and possibly an event in Dragon's mist.

Tessina will be taking over as head of Retinue while Jack is fulfilling other duties.
